

INFINITY CULINARY TRAINING

CLASS RULES

- 1) You must be seated in class and ready to work at 9:00 am. Never be late.
- 2) No theft, drug use or physical violence. One evidence of either and you will be expelled.
- 3) English must be spoken at all times while in class.
- 4) No cell phones in the class.
- 5) No excessive talking.
- 6) No leaning in the kitchen.
- 7) You must ask permission from your instructor to go to the toilet or to leave class for any reason.
- 8) When the word ATTENTION is called by any instructor, you must go quiet and listen.
- 9) All instructors at all times are to be addressed as “Chef.” When a request is made by an instructor, your response must be a loud and clear, “Yes, Chef.”
- 10) When you have completed your assigned task, you must go to the instructor and say, “What can I do next, Chef?” Do not hang around the kitchen and do nothing.
- 11) Keep your notebook and pen with you at all times to write down all information.
- 12) If you will be late or miss a day of class, you must phone one of the instructors. No sms’s. You must have a reasonable excuse and documentation for the absence (IE: a doctor’s excuse). Four absences for any reason and you will be expelled.
- 13) You must start each new week with washed and pressed uniform.
- 14) Always ask an instructor when you do not know something. This will gain you respect.
- 15) Never be afraid of making a mistake. You are here to learn. Be bold. Take the initiative. Your training is in your control. All chefs and instructors are here to see you succeed.
